Local focus - worldwide network

Slow Food International is a global, grassroots organization spanning 150 countries. Slow Food USA, a national association of Slow Food, has 175 local and campus chapters led by community volunteers. Slow Food Portland and chapters throughout Oregon adhere to the Slow Food worldwide core values of linking the pleasure of the table with a commitment to protect community, culture, and environment.

Slow Food Portland and Oregon chapters present a wide variety of food and farm educational events that strengthen and preserve local foods and food cultures. A small sampling of events and activities include:

- Farm tours; Berggen Demonstration Farm, Dancing Roots Farm, McKibben Ranch, Gathering Together Farm
- Tastings; Olive oils, wines, cheeses, meats, regional vegetables
- Movies; Resistance (antibiotics in foods), Fed Up (youth obesity), Food Inc. (fast food industry)
- Workshops & Presentations: Food and Farm Policy 101, Seeds and Seed Saving, Regional Small-Scale Meat Processing, The Art of Smoking Fish, Cheese Making,

Slow Food partnerships take many forms and are tailored to serve the mission of food education on a wide range of topics. Our partnerships include;

Friends of Family Farmers (co-present biannual Oregon Food & Farm Policy 101, plus various movies, authors, and informational presentations). World Affairs Council of Oregon - Setting the Table Series Oregon Humanities Conversation Project, TEDx Manhattan: Changing the Way We Eat Outgrowing Hunger Oregon Food Bank with many restaurants, chefs, and farms! Plus, Slow Food Portland will soon partner with Portland Public Schools to promote healthy local choices in school cafeterias.

SLOW Pinot Noir Supports Oregon Foods, Farms, and Folks!

Terra Madre International Food Conference:

Every two years a world-wide Slow Food gathering of small-scale farmers, chefs, educators and food activists convene in Turin, Italy to share ideas, attend workshops, and build a network and support system for those dedicated to a future of better food for all. Oregon has sent over 70 delegates to past Terra Madre gatherings. Proceeds from Slow Pinot will assist with travel expenses for future delegates.

Ark of Taste:

This international program is a living catalog of delicious and distinctive foods facing extinction. By identifying and championing these foods we keep them in production and on our plate. The Oregon Ark committee is committed to preserving heritage seeds and breeds, as well as education on the importance of biodiversity, seed saving, and support of local foods and farming. Proceeds from SLOW Pinot Noir will support regional education on biodiversity, seed saving, and the significance of a local food culture.

Farm & Garden Projects:

Slow Food Portland and chapters throughout Oregon will continue to partner and support local farmers, chefs, educators and food organizations to strengthen Oregon's dynamic sustainable food system.

Proceeds from SLOW Pinot Noir will be distributed to projects focusing on food and farm education, especially those highlighting youth and building a strong local food system.
